AOM's commercial kitchen exhaust range of dry scrubber electrostatic precipitators promises effective containment of particulate matter, oil, and grease with enhanced features for safety and reliability. The units are made of solid construction and heavy-duty collection plates that deliver consistent performance at up to 98% efficiency (based on EPA Environmental Analysis Laboratory - NIEA A101.74C testing as well as University of Sydney independent testing). Engineered to work 24 hours with minimal power consumption, the units provide effective containment of dust, oil, grease, and smoke in a kitchen exhaust system.
