Appic Softwares is a mobile app and web development company known as the best software development company in India and USA and also specializes in creating custom web and mobile applications. Our team provides full-cycle development services - starting from research and prototyping, through design and implementation, testing and optimization, deployment and maintenance. We use Node.js, React Native, Angular and GraphQL to build software that meets the highest performance and reliability requirements.

When we started in 2018, we had an idea for a company that could gather talented developers who could efficiently design and build successful web solutions with the help of emerging technologies. This philosophy has been evolving continuously over the past decade. We have built a team where every developer not only provides high-quality code but also thinks strategically to build a competitive web product, where web design is designed to meet the latest trends and ensure the highest quality standards. And quality assurance comes along with development, and where cutting-edge technologies and the latest development practices are an essential part of every new project.
