Eliminate leaks with Cosmos reliable detection equipment. From air testers to helium systems, achieve unmatched repeatability. Cosmo invented Air Leak Tester with differential pressure decay method, the perfect solution to overcome all above issues. It does not only detect the nominal leakage, but also gives OK and NG signal with data traceability to avoid operator dependency. Today, we are holding number one market share in India because of our robust and durable product. We feel pride to announce that our product can reduce cycle time by up to half, and machine lifetime to double the existing one.
