Clean energy is the most important energy in our life as it is fresh and renewable. The sunlight is considered to be the most effective and efficient form of energy for thousands of industries. Solar energy is clean and sustainable. Wind power comes next as the cleanest and renewable resource. Other resources like geothermal power, hydropower, biogas, and tidal power are some of the extra energy which is renewable in our planet.

The solar power plant in India has opened the scope of energy-deprived for electricity and other purposes in factories and industries. Solar panel Chandigarh has witnessed the most efficient use of wind and solar power. Though the setup is costly, it offers a lifelong reward if maintained efficiently.
