symphonyX is a Classroom Learning Management System | End to end software to manage academic courses

All the academic activities like lectures, labs, tutorials, projects etc. can be managed by symphonyX which provides a seamless interface for interactions between the faculty and students of each course.

symphonyX includes a comprehensive automated calendar and notification system which generates an automated schedule of all course events and activities based on the syllabus, allowing faculty to instantly make changes and updates.

The symphonyX student assessment framework provides evaluation support to faculty with contemporary techniques popular in education fraternity. Students are kept informed of their performance throughout the semester.

symphonyX has new distance learning features where classroom activities can be replaced by online teaching using any standard communication framework such as Microsoft Team, Zoom, and Webex.
