About Fuda Cancer Hospital – India

Fuda Cancer Hospital operates in India through two official centres located in Mumbai and Noida. These centres provide Indian patients with expert consultations, medical report evaluations, personalised treatment planning, and seamless coordination with Fuda's main hospital in China. Fuda Cancer Hospital in Mumbai is regarded as one of the best cancer centres in Mumbai, offering trusted guidance, second opinions and access to advanced international cancer treatments.

Internationally recognised as a super-speciality cancer care institution, Fuda offers advanced minimally invasive and robotic cancer treatments. Globally known for pioneering technologies such as Cryosurgery, Immunotherapy, NanoKnife, and targeted therapies, Fuda provides new hope to patients with both early-stage and advanced cancers. The hospital also specialises in follow-up care, long-term monitoring, and comprehensive palliative care, ensuring continuous support throughout each patient's treatment journey.

Every year, nearly 1,200 international patients from over 28 countries choose Fuda for its personalised and effective approach to cancer care. With 12 global consultation clinics and multiple international information centres, Fuda remains a trusted name in world-class oncology.

Fuda Cancer Hospital in India
Although the primary Fuda Cancer Hospital is located in China, patients in India can receive expert consultations, treatment planning, follow-up support, and palliative care guidance through the Fuda Mumbai and Fuda Noida centres. These centres help patients understand advanced treatment options and coordinate their medical journey seamlessly with Fuda's global team of specialists.

More Details About Fuda Cancer Hospital – China
Fuda Cancer Hospital in China is globally recognised for advanced, research-driven cancer treatment. Affiliated with Jinan University and the Chinese Academy of Sciences, FUDA has operated as a top-tier international hospital since 2010.
