RehabVeda's robotic gloves for stroke patients are designed to assist hand recovery using AI-driven neuro-rehabilitation technology. By detecting motor intent signals from the brain, the robotic hand gloves provide guided finger movements that help rebuild lost motor functions.

The system supports repetitive rehabilitation exercises, improves hand strength, and restores coordination. RehabVeda's Robotic Hand Recovery Gloves are suitable for patients recovering from stroke, nerve injury, or upper-limb paralysis and are effective even in chronic recovery stages.
