A subsidiary of the MM group of companies, Tega Industries Ltd., an Indian multinational corporation with operations spanning across 16 countries and employing 1600 people worldwide, was founded in 1976 in Kolkata. It is the brainchild of Mr MadanMohanka, a graduate of the prestigious Indian Institute of Management Ahmedabad.

Having earned a reputation as a global leader in the design and production of consumables for the mineral beneficiation, mining and bulk solids handling industry with global footprints in more than 70 countries, Tega's primary end-user customers are mineral processing sites involved in gold and copper ore mining.
